

MARINE MOTORS CERTIFIED BY RINA

In 2015 motive was admitted to the alternative test scheme (Certificate No. 2015 / MI / 01/537), which allows a more rapid and economical testing of three-phase marine motors compliant with RINA standards, both for essential service and not essential service.

In 2019 RINA also released the type design and validation tests certification for motive marine motors. In many cases this FREE certification is sufficient for the final customer, and therefore avoids the need to face the costs of the RINA test of each motor unit.
